

Fall Meeting
Workshop Minutes | November 21, 2014 | 1-4 pm
Madonna University

Mariela Hristova thanked Madonna University for hosting the Fall 2014 meeting and welcomed Sr. Rose Marie Kujawa, President of Madonna University. Sr. Rose Marie Kujawa shared the history of the Felican sisters in United States with the attendees. The order is celebrating its 140th anniversary in the United States. Madonna University has grown to 4,000 students taking classes in five programs in four location, the USA, China, Middle East and Haiti.

Session One began at 1:12pm and ended at 2:13pm. Mariela Hristova introduced the presenters.

Assessment in Process: Three Ongoing Projects at the Wayne State Libraries

Presenters: Paul Gallagher, Paul Beavers, Judith Arnold, Elliot Polak

Wayne State University Libraries, Wayne State University

Presentation slides can be found on the SEMLOL website – www.semlol.org

Break began at 2:13pm and ended at 2:40pm

Members entered library updates via Twitter during the breaking. The live feed was projected during the break as well. Please see pdf attachment of member updates.

Session Two began at 2:40pm

The Ethereal Library: Thinking Creatively
When You Have No Space to Think

Session Two began at 2:40pm and ended at 3:40pm. Mariela Hristova introduced the presenter.

The Ethereal Library: Thinking Creatively When You Have No Space to Think

Presenter: Corey Seeman, Kresge Business Administration Library, Ross School of Business, University of Michigan.

Presentation slides can be found on the SEMLOL website – www.semlol.org

Wrap up off meeting

Mariela Hristova encouraged the attendees to fill out the workshop evaluation as we appreciate the feedback and use to develop future workshops. Mariela also announced that this was our first program developed by a call for proposal at the previous workshop. This model was very successful so keeping with this process the theme for spring workshop will be Library As Service. A call for proposals will be out soon!

Thanks to Madonna University for hosting us.

Adjournment was at 3:45pm.

Respectfully submitted by Julia Daniel-Walkuski
November 21, 2014